

Building Community through Multi-Disciplinary Approaches: A Foundation of Extension Work
September 25, 2007
Agricultural Administration Auditorium

AGENDA

- 9:30 a.m. Registration and Refreshments
- 10:00 Welcome – Keith Smith and Program Overview – Greg Davis
- 10:15 Keynote Speaker: Dr. Ken Martin,
Associate Director, Programs and Department Chair, OSU Extension
- Community Development, A Foundation of Extension Work
Basic knowledge of community development can contribute to successful Extension programs across the disciplines. Understanding the complexities and interdisciplinary nature of this work is important to the organization as we strive to work across programmatic lines to create positive outcomes in promoting our seven OSU Extension Themes.
- 11:00 Break
- 11:15 Overview of the Foundations of Practice:
- Facilitation: Rose Fisher-Merkowitz
Community Participation: Chet Bowling/Nancy Kukay
Participatory Planning: Chris Bruynis/Ann Baird
- 12:00 p.m. Lunch
- 12:45- 1:45 Afternoon Roundtables with Panelists
- 1:45 – 3:15 Afternoon Roundtables with Ohio colleagues
- Learn about ready-to-use Extension individual and community development curricula and applications that you can integrate into your existing Extension programming efforts. Based on response to the call for proposals, 3 or 4 roundtable sessions will be conducted in 25 minute rotations.
- 3:15 Wrap Up and Evaluation
- 3:30 Adjourn