Hi fellow CD'ers!

It's time again for NACDEP awards! With 15 award categories (see link below), there are plenty of opportunities to submit your work, either as an individual or team. Don't overlook work (completed during 2013) such as diversity initiatives, program flyers, newsletters, websites, interviews, scholarly publications, marketing materials, curriculum, articles, etc. Some categories can be under-represented, so you are encouraged to submit more than one application, and in more than one category. Awards make a difference in promotion!

The application/award process is as follows:

1. Complete your application (in the link), but do not submit directly to NACDEP!
3. Email COMPLETE applications to me - bowen-ellzey.1@osu.edu - by noon, Friday, February 21
4. Applications will be reviewed and winners chosen by a team of CD colleagues during the last week of February
5. Winners for all represented categories will be submitted by March 1 to NACDEP for national consideration
6. Awardees are presented plaques/certificates at the NACDEP Annual Conference in Grand Rapids, MI June 22-25 (hope you're planning to attend!)

Congratulations to the 2013 Excellence in Community Development Award winner, David Civittolo, whose application has already been submitted for the JCEP Professionals of the Year Award for consideration.

GOOD LUCK DAVE!

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Have a great week!

Nancy
