April 15 is the early bird deadline to register for the National Conference on Diversity, Race & Learning set for May 6 - 7 in Columbus

The 19th annual NCDRL conference will be held at the Fawcett Conference Center of The Ohio State University. This year's theme is: "Prognosis Diversity: Prescription for Making America Whole." For more information on the sessions and the presenters, click on this "diversity training" link. OSUE Administration will sponsor 10 individuals to attend both the pre-conference workshop May 6 and the conference on May 7. Those interested in applying for scholarships should answer the following questions in an e-mail and send them to Ken Martin at martin.1540@osu.edu before April 11 at noon.

Why do you want to attend this conference?

How will you incorporate what you learn into your work?

How will you share your experience with the organization?

Administration will review the answers of those submitting for sponsorship to decide who to sponsor. Those receiving funding will be asked to write a paragraph for publication in the Communiqué explaining what they learned.

The conference registration form can be completed and e-mailed to ncdrl@osu.edu or faxed to 614-292-7889.
